

All About Rabbits

If you put two rabbits together they will fight up to three months. Rabbits have a great fear of falling. If it is very cold outside and you bring the rabbit into a nice warm place inside a house it will get a cold and it might even get iller. If you leave to go anywhere you should leave a radio on so it won't get lonely. You should always hum so it will know your there. Never sneak up on a rabbit it will have a hard attack and die. Sometime a rabbits nails will get too long and you want to trim them you should no trim them back to far because you might cut the rabbits vanes and a great amount of blood will come out ad he might die. You should always pick up and play with him or she rabbit because the rabbit will not be tamed and you won't be able to pick him up anymore.
